If you are experiencing emotional uneasiness, please call this national number to talk to someone about your feelings: 800-985-5990. It is normal to have feelings of increased stress and anxiety during this abnormal time as we face COVID-19 uncertainty.

Another Jackson County Case

There are now a total of ten COVID-19 cases in Jackson County, and 320 statewide, as of today. Please use the Mississippi Dept. of Health website to verify the number of cases across the state by county. Remember, doctors expect the number of cases to go up as the number of people being tested increases. The number of deaths, however, has not moved from one.
